iVoterGuide: Our American Flag and All That It Represents Is Under Attack as Never Before

On Flag Day and Every Day, No Other Flag—including the ‘Gay Pride’ Rainbow Flag—Should Compete with the Stars and Stripes, Says iVoterGuide

AUSTIN, Texas — Today is Flag Day, which commemorates the adoption of the flag of the United States. Yet our one true American flag and all that it represents is under severe attack right now.

In some American schools, young, impressionable children are taught that American “equality” means that men can use women’s bathrooms, that men can compete in women’s sports, that children and adults can choose a “gender” other than their biological sex—and that anyone who disagrees with this should be punished.

Debbie Wuthnow, president of iVoterGuide, has long been emphasizing that elections have consequences. “Perhaps nothing illustrates that elections have consequences better than how our current administration has authorized all U.S. embassies to fly the ‘Gay Pride’ flag along with the Stars and Stripes during the month of June, for ‘Gay Pride Month,’” says Wuthnow. “Elected officials determine what is taught in schools. Elected officials pass laws and issue executive orders about how ‘equality’ is defined. And elected officials nominate and confirm federal judges. How we vote in this country matters—at every level.”

With the 2022 and 2024 elections coming up fast, Wuthnow urges voters to help determine which version of our “American ideals” is taught to our children and imposed in our criminal and civil courts.

“Think of it: The men buried at Omaha Beach, in Normandy, France, which my daughter and I recently visited for Memorial Day, gave their lives for our American principles and ideals,” says Wuthnow. “Those principles and ideals don’t include, and never have, the promotion of homosexual behavior, transgender behavior, or any other kind of sexual immorality. They don’t include, and never have, the government-imposed redefinition of family and gender. And they don’t include, and never have, the criminal punishment and social ‘canceling’ of people who stand for biblical, traditional standards of family and sexuality.”

*Adds Wuthnow, “Will freedom survive—or will our Christian views be criminalized by elected officials? Will we lose our right to pass on our values to our children? And will our flag remain red, white, and blue—or will Christians be forced to salute the multicolored ‘Rainbow Flag’? All Americans can help decide this by learning more about iVoterGuide’s essential work.”*
